Describe How the Program Supports Family Connections

Heritage Children Services requires all foster families to support biological family involvement as allowed and approved by DCBS. HCS provides our youth numerous opportunities to maintain contact with biological family members. These opportunities may include biological family visitations, telephone calls, writing letters and family therapy. Additionally, HCS invites and encourages biological family participation in treatment team meetings, medical appointments, and school meetings. HCS is committed to supporting family connections as they play a vital role in our youth's treatment and, potentially, family reunification.

Special Interventions Available Internally

In addition to ongoing case management and clinical services, HCS provides on call/crisis management support 24-hours a day, every day of the year. HCS is committed to providing our professional foster parents with specific training to meet the needs of the youth placed in their home on an individual basis. Heritage Children Services works closely with state social workers, CDWs, school staff, medical providers, and others to provide the best services and outcomes possible to the youth we serve.
